ARTS
FOR LEARNING

2019
Community Report

For 56 years, Think 360 Arts for Learning has delivered high-quality arts education programs to students, teachers, and communities throughout Colorado. We believe access to the arts is intrinsic to a high quality of life and our programs provide meaningful and inclusive arts experiences to the diverse populations in our state.

In the 2018-2019 fiscal year, the lives of 37,000 students, teachers, and community members as well as our roster of 65 teaching artists have been enriched thanks to your generosity and commitment to arts education. We are proud of the exciting ways we've been involved in the community this year.

DA ARTT PROGRAM

The District Attorney Acquiring Restitution Through Talent Program (DA ARTT) engages first-time youth offenders in a restorative justice program through which they receive artistic mentorship, create and sell artworks to fund victim restitution, and have their juvenile record expunged. The expansion and growth of this partnership has been supported by Arts in Society, which seeks to support projects that engage artists and arts organizations as partners in illuminating and finding solutions to a wide array of civic and social challenges faced by Colorado communities.

The arts help our students find confidence and help create a safe space for expression. They need the freedom to share their life challenges in ways that are meaningful. We feel Think 360 Arts is such a wonderful, meaningful, and powerful resource for the arts within our community.

- Tanner Palmer, Educator at HOPE Online Learning Academy Co-Op

CREATIVE AGING

Think 360 Arts' Creative Aging program promotes lifelong learning and the infusion of arts in older adult populations. The expansion of this program has been supported by NextFifty Initiative. NextFifty Initiative's partnership allows us to engage older adults in social, community-building activities by offering customized programs in a variety of art-forms, offering multiple entry points for engagement and success.

PROGRAMS IN GREATER COLORADO

Programs in 10 rural counties received subsidies in 2018-2019, providing for performances, artist residencies, and more.

Colorado Arts Partnership (CAP) Grants, a collaborative grant-making program between Colorado Creative Industries (CCI) and Think 360 Arts, supports innovative projects throughout the state that demonstrate strong collaboration among community arts partners and teachers.

Thanks to the generous sponsorship from Otten Johnson Robinson Neff + Ragonetti PC, we were able to offer several scholarships to educators in Greater Colorado for our Institute for Creative Teaching, an in-depth week-long summer institute, in collaboration with the University of Denver's Morgridge School of Education, offering the theory and practice of arts integration. Scholarship winners also received a free artist residency program for their school in the 2019-2020 school year.
