TEACHING ARTIST TV

Launched in May 2020, Think 360 Teaching Artist TV was designed with educators in mind but accessible to anyone who wants to move, sing, act, and make art. Spanning visual arts, storytelling, music, theatre, dance, and media arts, this resource uses materials that are readily available. Thousands from across the state, country, and outside of the U.S. have engaged with Think 360 Teaching Artist TV. Teaching Artist TV can be viewed on our website and YouTube channel.

Think 360 is an excellent organization that makes a huge difference in providing art education. Your impact is great as it allows us to go beyond our walls of our school to introduce students to professionals that they would not have the opportunity to meet otherwise. Think 360 is key to supporting art education in schools. Thank you for your generosity and support!

Chrissy Kopatich, Wildcat Mountain Elementary

For 57 years, Think 360 Arts for Learning has delivered high-quality arts education programs to students, teachers, and communities throughout Colorado.

During the 2019-2020 fiscal year, Think 360 Arts collaborated with schools and communities across the state of Colorado, working with our professional artists to create custom programs. In fall and winter, a rich variety of programs were conducted in-person, while the spring and summer inspired innovations in digital content and socially distant programs. Regardless of how we deliver programs, our goal is to maintain quality experiences and create vital social connection through the arts that are accessible to the diverse communities we serve.

CREATIVE AGING

Our Creative Aging programming has grown significantly in the last four years, with the number of older adult participants increasing from 65 to over 600 annually since 2016. Partnerships have expanded to include Denver Housing Authority, The Senior Hub, SAGE of the Rockies, public libraries in multiple counties, and more. As a creative response to social isolation for older adults in our community, this spring we provided distance learning through teleconferencing platforms, take-away art kits, and outdoor socially-distanced performances. These programs were made possible by NextFifty Initiative and SCFD.

GREATER DENVER WOLF TRAP

In Spring 2020, Think 360 Arts launched Greater Denver Wolf Trap, and became an affiliate of Wolf Trap Institute for Early Learning Through the Arts. A nationally recognized leader in early childhood arts-based learning, Wolf Trap Institute, a program of Wolf Trap Foundation for the Performing Arts, partners with early childhood educators to use the performing arts as a teaching strategy to engage children in active learning across curricula. This new affiliation is made possible by the generous support of the PNC Foundation through its $500 million bilingual early childhood education initiative with free resources for parents, caregivers and teachers: PNC Grow Up Great, and individual donor support through Constellation Philanthropies.
